

INTRODUCTION

The Journal of Ethics in Mental Health would like to warmly thank Dr. Richard Warner for inviting authors to contribute to this special supplement on the relationship between psychiatry and the pharmaceutical industry. We are also very grateful to Dr. Warner for contributing his guest editorial. Dr. Warner is Professor of Psychiatry and Adjunct Professor of Anthropology at the University of Colorado and an internationally recognized authority in a number of areas, including recovery from schizophrenia and social inclusion. He is well known for his comprehensive views of treatment and recovery and the range of issues that affect it, including the role of medications.
